

Papier Léger sur la nécessité d'un nouveau pays
www.jules.pm

L'objectif: the establishment of a new free and independent sovereign country.
Replete with land and international diplomatic recognition from United Nations member states

What kind of new country? A home for those seeking an enhanced quality of life

Why another country? Because the Principality of Monaco isn't big enough to accommodate us all

But why a country? Because autonomous regions like Hong Kong have limitations

Why not reform an existing country? Because it is easier to start with a clean slate

Why is a clean slate best? Because political entanglements can get minimized from the onset

Why land? Because people live on land and are more than digital beings. Oceanic, extraterrestrial, and Antarctic settlements have cost and logistical impediments. Besides, Antarctica is cold and belongs to the penguins!

What about the environment? The new country will be carbon neutral

What about the displacement of people? Uninhabited land will get sought as not to displace indigenous peoples

How will the new country get land? Through the purchase of national territory

How will the country pay for its land? Stay tuned for more information

Will the new country go into debt? No. There will be no national debt, and the government will not borrow on credit

Where will the new country get located? Stay tuned for future announcements

When is independence day coming? Stay posted, and yes, there will be a party!

When will development tenders get offered? Stay tuned

How can I become a citizen? The process will be simpler and faster than in either Monaco or Switzerland

Dual-nationality and holding multiple citizenships will always be allowed? Yes

Why international diplomatic recognition from United Nation member states?

Because this is the current geopolitical standard. Successful countries enjoy broad diplomatic relations. It also forms a component of the constitutive theory of statehood.

What kind of foreign policy will this new country have? Neutrality with a friendly neighbour policy

The new country will be like Switzerland? Yes, concerning foreign policy style

What kind of currency will the new country have? No legal tender laws. Gold & crypto accepted

The new country will have a gold standard? Prior to the Year 2000, the Swiss Confederation had a partial model. One which may get adopted

What is the flag going to look like? Stay tuned for a contest with a reward

Can I compose the national anthem? Stay tuned for a contest with a reward

What is the new country's name? Stay tuned for a contest with a reward

Will the new country have taxes? The Monégasque example is under consideration. No offshore financial centre is foreseen

Why is no offshore financial centre planned? Numerous centres already work well

Is this going to be a new Monaco? The new country will be an international intentional lifestyle jurisdiction

Will the new country permit gaming? A modified Monégasque model is likely

Will vices get prohibited? The quality of life for all inhabitants is paramount

What does quality of life mean? Privacy, dignity, respect, safety, and order

Are you setting up a police state? No

Will a welfare state exist? Private charities will get encouraged. Universal basic income in the form of a citizen's dividend may get implemented

Will this be a country for the rich? No

Will you accept refugees? Yes. Those without a criminal history or disease

What kind of government will you have? A limited and private government

Private government? Many essential government functions will be private

Will there be an army? Plenty of countries such as Costa Rica lack a military

What will the official language be? English and Esperanto. No official language

Esperanto? Yes, if feasible, possible, and workable as an auxiliary to English

Will there be an official religion? No. Unlike the Principality of Monaco

Is this going to be a democracy? Swiss-style cantonal democracy considered

Will the new country have a King? An adopted Monarch head of state considered

How can I invest? Stay tuned

Who is behind this? Montréal-based crypto & real estate entrepreneur Jules STARR

Who are the team members? Stay tuned

May I spread the word? Please do. Sign up for email updates at www.jules.pm
